About Us

Rocky Mousse was originally founded in 1985 in Montreal, Canada. From the beginning, Rocky Mousse was based on various types of chocolate. The founders, Rachel Dallaire and Tyrone David, wanted to create a chocolate that held a little something from already existing chocolates and combine them together. In result, Rocky Mousse was born. The initial company brand was strictly created in order to represent Canada which is why a Moose was used to represent the brand along with a tint of red, the national colour of the country. In addition, the gold was used to represent its luxury and richness.
