INTRODUCTION

Discord is the best way to get involved in your gaming organization, no matter what game you play. Whether it's to just chat with your friends, step onto the competitive esports scene, create your own organization or just to stay in contact with people, Discord is the way to go. With tons of features and loads of bots to help with the organization, Discord is a simple yet deep program that can replace programs like Skype, that just aren't made for the gaming community.

SETTING UP A SERVER

The first step in creating your server is picking a name. After that you need to set the region and your servers icon. NOTE: if you don't have an icon for your server yet it will automatically use the first two letters in the server name as an icon.
